Dear Sir:

We are pleased to learn that you will be with us for our Fourteenth Northeast Conference at Chatham, Massachusetts, on September 28, 29, 30, 1973.

The preliminary list mailed to you on June 29, indicates those who have accepted thus far. We are waiting to hear from several others whose names, as well as yours, will appear on the final list which will be distributed at the Conference. Further details about this meeting are outlined in the enclosed booklet.

As soon as you have decided what your travel plans will be, I would appreciate your advising me when and how you plan to arrive at the Inn. If assistance is needed in this respect, or if we can help you with any details not mentioned, please let me know.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact John G. Worssam or myself. We look forward to seeing you at the Fourteenth Northeast Conference.

Cordially yours,

Stuart R. Clarkson

fish for striped bass. It was here that the French Cable came ashore in 1879.

Return along Cable Road, turn right at Nantuxet Road and bear right to reach Route 6 and Wellfleet. A short distance on the left is the Wellfleet Bay Wildlife Sanctuary of the Audubon Society. South of the Sanctuary, on the right, is the road leading to the Marconi Station Area of the Cape Cod National Seashore, an interesting site with its interpretive shelter overlooking the ocean. Return to Route 6, turn right, take Ocean View Drive to the ocean and parking area at Le Count Hollow Beach. Leave the beach and take the first right turn, following along the ocean, past Cahoon's Hollow Coast Guard Station (now inactive) and Long Pond on the left and cross Route 6 into Wellfleet Village. Turn right at the stop sign. Note the white church on the hill where the clock in the lower strikes on ship's time. A short distance from the church on the same side of the street is the Wellfleet Historical Society building. Open mid-June through first week of September, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. Admission $50 over 12 years.

See Original Charm
Wellfleet maintains much of its original charm and is well worth a leisurely visit in spite of the fact that the new State highway has bypassed the center of the village.

WELLFLEET

Take a sharp left turn at the end of the shopping district for Chequeset Neck, then the first right turn and follow Chequeset Neck Road to Sunset Hill. Here there is a parking area overlooking the surrounding countryside and the bay, with Provincetown looming up in the distance. If you are fortunate enough to be at this spot at the close of day, you may be treated to a glorious sunset. Leaving this lovely spot, bear right for May's Town Beach. Wellfleet Harbor and the harbor. This is a scene of much activity when Wellfleet was a thriving whaling port. Return to Main Street and turn right on Route 6 in the direction of Eastham.

After a short distance, you will find on the right, the Episcopal Church in the ruins of a fine example of modern construction. After passing the Marconi Station Area on the left, take the second right, West Road, for a pleasant drive through fields, low hills and glimpses of Cape Cod Bay. West Road becomes Massasoit Road. Bear right again at Herring Brook Road. At Bridge Road, bear right again and follow it to the intersection of Route 6 and drive back at your starting point in Orleans.

TOUR NO. 6

(Approximately 50 miles).
Through the unique and fascinating villages of Truro and Provincetown.

Start at the village of Wellfleet on Route 6. After traveling about a mile, take Round Brook Road on the left for South Truro and a scenic drive from the bay side to the ocean.

This is a winding country road passing woods, rolling hills and salt meadows, leading to delightful Cape Cod Bay, and a view of the Provincetown Monument in the distance.

Follow along typical Cape Cod scenery — low hills, pine, wild cranberry vines and beach plum bushes — and a fine view of the Hill of Churches.

Continue to Route 6 and at the sign pointing the way to Provincetown, then take the first left and continue up Town Hill Road to the churches, the old cemetery and a spot where you get an early view of the Provincetown Monument. As you drive along, note the black sand dunes on the right and the Atlantic salt beyond. This road winds around the head of Provincetown. You will pass cranberry bogs, pine and low hills dotted with blueberry and bayberry bushes and sweet oaks.

Marker on Cliff
Back to Route 6 again for a visit to the Hill of Churches. Bear right to Provincetown, then take the first left and continue up Town Hill Road to the churches, the old cemetery and a spot where you get an early view of the Provincetown Monument. As you drive along, note the black sand dunes on the right and the Atlantic salt beyond. This road winds around the head of Provincetown. You will pass cranberry bogs, pine and low hills dotted with blueberry and bayberry bushes and sweet oaks.

To visit historic Corn Hill, take the first right turn to the Catholic Church and then right at Cobbs Library. Pass through the old cemetery and at the intersection look across the meadow at Corn Hill. It was on this hill that the desperate hungry Pilgrims "borrowed" corn to Indians. A marker on the cliff at the edge of the bay indicates the spot. Bear right and you will soon be back to Route 6.

TRURO
For a visit to Cape Cod or Highland Light, pass the Truro School on the right, then take the first right, South Highland Road and the second right, the Highland House. The light is situated on the high cliff facing the Atlantic Ocean. This historic light house has one of the most powerful lights on the Atlantic Coast and is the first beacon "picked up" by ships from European ports to light the way to Cape Cod Light. Turn right, then left on Highland Road, under a large tree, take the first left, which leads to a small park beside a pond where 18 Pilgrims led by Miles Standish encamped on the shore for the second night after landing on the island, Nov. 16, 1620.

Return to Route 6A, turn left and follow along the narrow road to Provincetown. Bear left at the fork to drive along Commercial Street where on the left you will see the harbor, busy wharves and the fishing fleet. The oldest house in Provincetown, built in 1746, is on this street.

PROVINCETOWN

Visit Town Hall, which has many interesting murals and paintings and the HISTORICAL MUSEUM where the valuable collection of interesting articles gathered by Donald MacMillan, noted Arctic explorer, is displayed. Climb the Pilgrim Monument for a view which is expansive and striking.

Open every day from 9 to 5 p.m. Mid-June to mid-September from 9 to 5 p.m. Adults $75 (includes Museum and Monument). At the top of Provincetown Monument Hill is a large baffle of the most beautiful and colorful flowers, which beautifully illustrates the signing of the Compact in the heart of the flower, and became the basic document for the government of the colony.

Be sure to visit the Provincetown Marine Aquarium, just past the Post Office at 201 Commercial Street. It is a unique Cape Cod setting, over 40 Atlantic species, are on display. Dolphin shows, Unique aquarium. Admission.

A trip to Provincetown is not complete without a visit to Provincetown. At Association on 460 Commercial Street. Exhibits, Drawings, Paintings, and Sculpture. Shows, June to September 1 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and 8:11 p.m. Sunday from 2-6 p.m. Admission 25c.

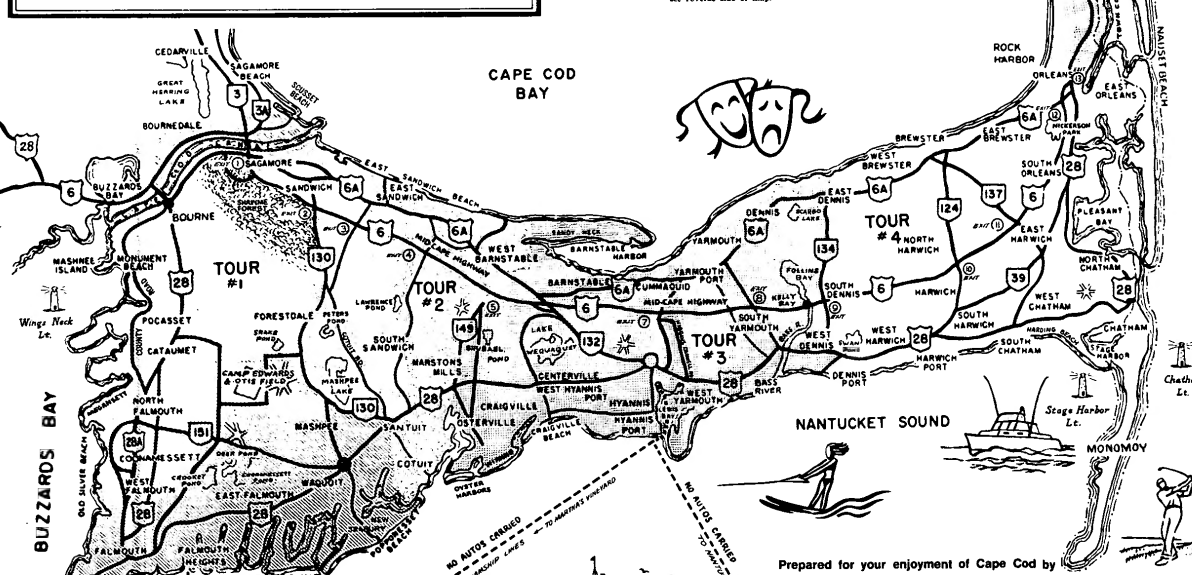

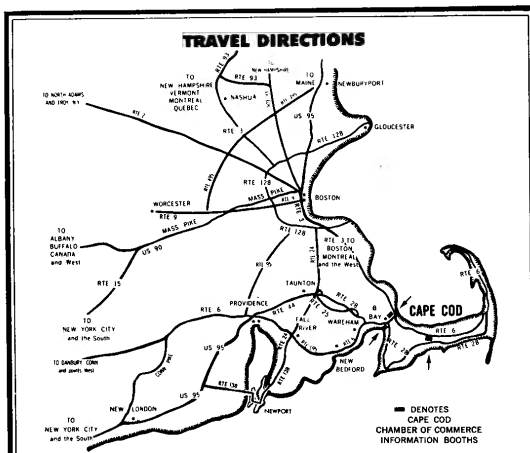

Follow along the harbor to the first landing place of the Pilgrims. The marker is near Provincetown Town Hall. It was here, on the shore, that on November 11, 1620, there are guided and self-guided shore voyage across the Atlantic, and the most spectacular dunes along the Atlantic Coast which are dotted with small gnarled trees partly buried by the wind-blown sands.

Continue on Provincetown Road to Race Point Beach, turn left for the Provincetown Visitor Center. It is open 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily during the summer, and 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. during Spring and Fall. Exhibits, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Continue along Race Point Road, past the Provincetown Lookout, commanding a panoramic view. Off these shores, hundreds of mariners lost their lives in shipwrecks. Behind the hook of the Cape, from this Lookout, you can see across Provincetown into Cape Cod Bay.
